21 Area Traffic Crashes Injure 15

4 Hurt in 2 Crashes At Same Location; Two Hurt in Single Mishap

Four persons were injured in two crashes at the same location yesterday, and two persons were hurt in another collision of two cars as the Quad-City area traffic toll rose to 15 injured in 21 mishaps during the weekend.

Four injuries resulted from two related collisions at 1 a.m. Sunday on Washington avenue at 25th street.

Herman Cruse, 21, of 2853 Washington avenue, driving north, saw flashing lights on a barricade and swerved to the right. When he swerved, the front right side of his auto struck a utility pole.

Cruse, suffering left lower leg and back injuries, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital, as were two passengers in his car, Joseph Marzuli, 18, of 2242 Cleveland blvd., and Victor Gehring, 18, of 2250 Benton street.

Admitted to Hospital
Marzuli was admitted to the hospital with right shoulder, left index finger and right lower leg injuries. Gehring also was admitted with right knee lacerations.

Also northbound, Carl Lisac, 18, of 2809 Maryville road, attempted to stop when he saw the Cruse auto hit the pole. Alan Werner, 20, Alto, tried to stop but his auto skidded in front of the vehicle striking the left rear of the Lisac car.

A passenger, Andrea Lisac, 22, of 2809 Maryville road sustained minor injuries.

David Williams, 27, of 1107 Douglas street, Venice, received slight injuries at 9 a.m. Saturday while a passenger in the auto of James L. Kennedy, East St. Louis. Robert Nash, 268 Fillmore street, Venice, northbound on Madison avenue at 18th street, slowed to turn left and the rear of his car was hit by the front of the Kennedy auto.

Edgewood Collision
As Isabel Davis, 2707 Harvey place, attempted a left turn into a driveway at 2:50 p.m. Saturday, there was a collision between the left front fender of her car and the right side of the auto of Vern Hines, 2420 Glen place, who was passing as the two vehicles moved south on Edgewood.

Beulah Howe, 2707 Harvey place, a passenger in the Davis auto, sustained minor injuries.

PFCLARENCE GIBSON

Clarence Gibson, 23, Wounded in Vietnam Action

Pfc Clarence E. Gibson, 23, was wounded in the left leg in Vietnam Sept. 13 as a result of enemy action.

Assigned to the 168th Battalion of the 198th Infantry, the serviceman received a fragment wound while a passenger on a military vehicle enroute to a night defense position. During the journey, the unit became engaged with a hostile force in a firefight.

He was treated and hospitalized in Vietnam. His address is 2301 Hospital Mail Section, APO SF 96381.

Since he is not seriously wounded, no further reports are to be forwarded on his condition, the family was informed.

A former Granite City high school student, Pfc Gibson worked at the Finley Plating Co. here before enlisting for a two-year period in December 1967. He was trained at Fort Leonard Wood, Mo., and in Alabama, and arrived overseas July 28.

He had a law passed in 1964 when Davis was mayor giving authority to the mayor to name committees. That's what I did on May 20. Then the law was repealed in June. I vetoed the repeal, and on June 24, the council overrode my veto.

"It is my contention the council should abide by the law instead of making changes all the time. The law under which I made the appointments on May 22 — the new fiscal year — would have had a decision on that maneuvering. I'm sure such instances probably are occurring."

Contract Talks at Dow Scheduled to be Resumed

Representatives of Dow Chemical Co. and striking members of the United Steelworkers Union 4804 will resume negotiations Wednesday in an attempt to resolve contract issues, it was reported today.

A strike of 700 steelworkers at Dow's Madison plant went into its 24th day today.

The new contract has been arranged by the U.S. Mediation and Conciliation Service, St. Louis, in whose offices the Wednesday meeting will be held, beginning at 10 a.m.

Last negotiation session was held Sept. 12. Talks broke down at that time, union leaders said, because of continued demands by company negotiators for a revision of seniority and job security clauses.

Operations Continue
The company has continued operation with supervisory personnel, resulting in mass picketing that kept non-union employees out of the plant for three days last week. A circuit court injunction limited pickets at the plant gates. Venice police said there have been no more incidents at the plant.

The home of Clarence R. Cooper, 4212 Maryville road, was damaged by a plane crash Saturday and again at 5:20 a.m. Saturday when men in a passing auto broke out a 60 x 60 inch window pane, shattering bricks at the house.

Cooper is an area supervisor at Dow Chemical Co. in St. Louis. He was working during the current strike.

Cooper reported to sheriff's deputies that the plane was downed by a car that was broken out at 4:30 a.m. Fifty minutes later, the carload of men passed his house and bricks were thrown, causing marks on the house.

Cooper said he fired several shots at the car but did not know if he had hit it. He described it as a white 1962 model with red trim on the trunk.

Urges Higher Gas Tax to Update Highways

A 9-cent Illinois gasoline tax and addition of $20 to the state auto license fee as a means of meeting mounting costs of highway construction and upkeep was suggested Thursday night by Robert Krone, district engineer of Illinois Highway District 8 at French Village.

Speaking before the quarterly meeting of the Southern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission in East St. Louis, Krone told the group that a total of $500 million is needed at present to meet the immediate need of highway construction and updating of highway systems in District 8, which is made up of 11 counties, including Madison.

There is no hope of meeting this need under present funding allocations of from $30 to $50 million per year for work in District 8, particularly since 75% of the funds are applied to Interstate highway construction and the balance must cover

Contents Full-Scale Hearing on Committees Should have been Held

Mayor Partney announced last Friday that he has instructed his attorney, Morris Chapman, to appeal last Thursday's ruling which dismissed his suit against the council on determining authority for selection of council committees.

The mayor said he was not concerned over membership of the council committees, but that his action was prompted by "a matter of principle over the repeated changes of ordinances by council members."

The council has a regular session at 8 p.m. today.

Since May 20, the council has operated virtually without committees. It was on that date that the mayor named his committees, followed on May 27 by a selection submitted by the council.

The mayor commented following the court ruling by Associate Judge Foss Meyer at Edwards street, that he had hoped the suit would go to a hearing stage, rather than being dismissed on a motion by attorney William Schooley for the opposing aldermen.

Capt. Keeton Wounded; With Paratroop Unit

CAPT. JESSE KEETON

Mr. and Mrs. Riley S. Keeton, 2811 West 22nd street, have received word that their son, Capt. Jesse L. Keeton, 31, an Army paratrooper, has been wounded in action in Vietnam.

Details surrounding the action, in which the officer is believed to have suffered shrapnel wounds to the leg, presently remain unclear. He is understood to be hospitalized at the U.S. Army Hospital at Camp Zama in Japan, but may be in the process of being evacuated to this country.

Mr. Keeton, a friend of her son, had notified the family in a telephone call from California. The unusual circumstances came about, she explained, in an effort to avoid possible shock to the mother, who has undergone open heart surgery.

Near End of Tour
A 14-year Army veteran, Capt. Keeton has served in Vietnam with the 501st Infantry of the 101st Airborne Command since Nov. 20. He was due to return home next month.

Two months ago, the officer was awarded the Silver Star Medal for "an act of bravery above and beyond the call of duty." Also to avoid worrying his mother, Capt. Keeton refrained from mentioning the award in his letters home and a friend sent her a photograph of the award ceremony.

Citizen Report on School Needs Wednesday Night

Possibility of a fall tax and construction program election in the Granite City school district is to be discussed at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday by the Granite City school board, which will receive the report of citizens' committee co-chairmen, Jon

Mullen and Leo H. Konzen. A committee of about 50 citizens launched an analysis of school district needs at a meeting last Feb. 14, when Konzen, Mullen and Edward Hagnauer were elected by the gathering to direct the study. Hagnauer has been inactive.

Subcommittees were formed and an extensive investigation was conducted, including a meeting with faculty study committees and the staff of State Supt. Ray Page.

A report written by Konzen and Mullen to summarize the findings is being sent this week to those who attended the February meeting and the acting organization representatives named to aid the school board and administration in its planning.

Attention has focused on provision of additional school building space, improved utilization of existing space, and the existing tax base. The citizens' committee has also been asked to determine the number of pre-school-age children currently residing in the district.

Possible proposals voiced during the February meeting were a 40-cent rise in education fund rate, a new bond issue, construction of two grade schools and a junior high school and revision of the present structure of three-year junior high and three-year high school instruction.

Each school board topics Wednesday will include the new office-warehouse's maintenance staff and engineers' services, a new building for the junior high school, an annual recertification report and coaching assignments.

Speaker Smith said he has watched the growth of the hospital over the years. The Hallmark of this institution has always been service to the community.

On my tours throughout the state, I always remember Granite City as the friendliest town I've ever had any experience with. The hospital staff and Sisters reflect this trait.

Growing Community
"This is a growing community, and the hospital and its services must also grow. This recognition reflects the Sisters' recognition of this community growth."

Robertson then called upon State Rep. Leland Kennedy of Alto, who has been a beneficiary of the hospital's services and each one on the platform was given an opportunity to say a few words, before leaving the platform to drive in a shiny, chrome-plated stake.

Classes Start in Madison; Most Pickets

4-Week Strike Ends; Parents Accompany Children to School

Classes started today in the Madison school district without incident except for informational pickets posted by the Madison Federation of Teachers.

Each of the schools had a full complement of teachers, according to Raymond Dragich, superintendent, and though complete attendance figures were not available this morning, many of the classrooms were full, he said.

Many of the younger children were accompanied by parents who remained with them in the classrooms, though the educational process in the district got under way following a four-week delay.

The staff included 62 regular teachers, including 42 union members who signed individual contracts and 20 new ones, in addition to substitute teachers. A regular complement of 120, Dragich reported.

About a dozen youths milled around a cafeteria across from Madison high school, refusing to cross the picket lines, and some children were spotted along neighborhood streets after classes started.

No Contract Talks
No contract talks have been scheduled between the board and the striking teachers, according to the superintendent.

The union teachers were joined in picketing by members of the East St. Louis teachers union, also still on strike, and by other groups. One picket was a representative of the Local 188, composed of labor educators.

Some of the picket signs read: "Will the Madison board of education force teachers away from school?" "Don't be a scab!" "Union teachers for quality education!" "Don't pick scabs. It's not healthy!" "Do we pay taxes for scabs?" "Scabs leave scars!" "Scabs are (scabs and cross bones) to our children!" and "Negotiate now, don't tamper with the children's future."

No taunts or threats were heard from either the pickets or students. The Madison police department called out extra personnel to patrol each of the schools.

GC Statement
Meanwhile the Granite City Federation of Teachers, headed by Robert Johnson, president, urged other groups in urging a settlement. In a prepared statement, the Granite City local said:

"The Granite City Federation of Teachers urges the Madison school board and the Madison Federation of Teachers to uphold the principles of collective bargaining in seeking a solution to their current impasse."

"An immediate settlement which is fair and honorable will serve the best interest of the community at large and will allow the schools to attend to the first order of business, the education of the children of Madison."

Michael E. Clemens, 18, of 2829 Union avenue suffered a broken left leg when he fell from the bridge while on the Chain of Rocks canal early Saturday morning, according to a report to sheriff's deputies at Edwards street.

The sheriff's office said Clemens was reported by friends to have fallen about 50 feet from the bridge while they were waiting for a companion to return with gasoline for their car. Clemens was admitted to St. Elizabeth Hospital. He also suffered abrasions and was x-rayed.

Lee Tells Optimists Of Schools' Growth

Earl Lee, administrative assistant for personnel of the Granite City school district, was the guest speaker Thursday at the luncheon meeting of the Optimist Club in the YMCA. He was introduced by Herman Mueller, program chairman.

In discussing "Personnel Opportunities," Lee said that when he retired in June 1969 he will have been in the teaching field for 41 years and he reviewed changes in the local school system. In 1959 when the school board created his position, Lee said, there were 600 employees, with 447 teachers included. Today, the total employment is 930, with 703 teaching positions. Lee read examples of unusual applications he has received for teaching positions. In his search for teachers, he frequently tours the college campuses to conduct personal interviews.

The most difficult type of teachers to find, he said, are those in the Industrial Arts and those specially trained for mentally handicapped. Since the state has introduced these specific programs into the public school system, there is a shortage of teachers in this field.

Fred Cunningham, president, presided at the meeting which 21 members and two guests attended. Barry Loman, a member of the Twilight Optimist Club, and Cornelius Swait, the new district manager of Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. were the guests of Henry D. Karandjeff.

Mueller announced the featured speaker at next week's meeting will be Sam Eubanks, assistant to Gov. Shapiro. He will speak on "Law and Order at the State Level." Arrangements for his visit here were made by Mayor Parney.

Special Recognition

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thebeau, 1511 Fifth street, Madison, will spend Oct. 9-11 at Lake Lawn resort in Wisconsin where they will be entertained and given special recognition for an outstanding job in developing a large premium value of Quality Life Insurance. ### Psychiatric Day Program To Open at Alton State

Herman Shaw, Madison county unit administrator of Alton State Hospital said today, the official opening date for the new Psychiatric Day Hospital Program for community clients has been scheduled for Sept. 30, and is the first of its kind in the area.

The Day Care Hospital is an outgrowth of Mental Health Zone VII, Department of Mental Health, dividing into four sub-zones, and Dr. Richard Murney is director of the Madison county sub-zone Comprehensive Mental Health Program.

Mrs. Joan Hashimi, social worker, explained the program has been designed as a short term intensive day care program with a maximum duration of two months, which will operate on a full day, five-day-a-week treatment program, comprised of group and individual therapy, creative arts, vocational counseling and recreational counseling.

Letters describing the program have been sent to Madison county clergymen, physicians, social service agencies, police and other professionals in the community.

Clients referred to this program will be screened by the staff of the day hospital, and ask for the Day Care Hospital, 465-5585.

Pioneer Crafts To be Exhibited

Illinois pioneer crafts will be on exhibit during the coming weeks in two Illinois Sesqui-centennial fairs. Skilled artisans will show how early settlers fashioned necessities and entertainment from materials at hand.

Almost forgotten arts of horseshoeing, gunsmithing, spinning and weaving—even dental playing—will be demonstrated to show how early Illinoisans worked and lived.

The "Land of Lincoln" Crafts Festival will be at the New Salem Carriage Museum northwest of Springfield on Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 28 and 29.

A spectacular crafts show will also be held at Clayville, Oct. 5-6 during the Clayville Folk Arts Festival at the restored stagecoach stop in the village. The program lists folk songs, folk dances, goose plucking and sheep shearing contests. A muzzle loading rifle team from Peoria will demonstrate the pioneer sharpshooting of the hunter.

Waste Treatment Plant At SIU-SW Described

Southern Illinois University-Southwestern is cultivating millions in tiny bacteria to take a big, nasty load off the campus.

The bacteria get the VIP treatment at the campus waste treatment plant, and SIU-SW is still trying to find ways of making them even more at home.

It seems like a strange attribute, but since the bacteria perform a maximum health benefit for the University, their devilishness is desirable.

At least, this is the thinking and motivation behind Clifford Fore, technical supervisor of the plant, who spent about 40 years in water and waste treatment before coming to SIU-SW in 1966.

"When you really understand the miracle performed by these microorganisms," the supervisor noted, "you find it difficult not to put a lot of emphasis on them."

The SIU-SW sewage plant lies just north of the academic core.

A glimpse at its countryside atmosphere, with the overlay of brick, concrete and clean, white pipes and tanks, suggests plush living instead of the controlled dispensation of putrefied matter.

About a quarter of a mile south of the plant is Tower Lake which receives the chlorinated water that eventually emerges from the waste in a form so pure you can bathe in it. Although officials do not recommend a test of this disposition, the prospect dramatically reflects the extent of the purification process.

700,000 File Under State Firearms Law

One half million Firearm Owners Identification Cards have been mailed to Illinois residents by the Department of Public Safety. A total of slightly more than 700,000 applications have been received, according to Ross C. Randolph, public safety director.

The firearm law requires a person who possesses or wants to acquire firearms and ammunition to have a Firearm Identification Card. Unless revoked, the cards are valid for five years. A photo and $5 fee must accompany applications.

Dr. Strole, Former Resident, Raises Winning Race Horse

Word has been received here from Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Strole of Abilene, Texas, former residents of the success of their son, Dr. Donald Strole, in the horse racing circles.

Dr. and Mrs. Strole purchased a horse named "Three Oh's," as a young scraggly colt, that nobody wanted, except Mrs. Strole. The two-year-old speedster this month outraced nine other top mounts to win the world's richest horse race, the Futurity at Rudisodown Downs.

The winner's share of that specific race netted the Stroles $160,000. Three Oh's was a June colt, a factor considered undesirable in horse circles, but he grew and developed steadily, on the ranch run by the Strole family at Abilene, Texas. They raise brood mares, keeping about from 10 to 15 all the time.

Dr. Strole, who is a practicing physician in Abilene, was graduated from Granite City high school in 1938 and attended Westminster College at Fulton, Mo. He was graduated from Vanderbilt Medical School in Nashville.

After his discharge from the Army following world war II, he and his family settled in Texas. His parents left this area 19 years ago, after the elder Mr. Strole retired from General Steel Castings Industries, to make their home near their son and family.

Kaseberg, 4121 Kaseberg lane, as the result of injuries alleged to have been sustained by the boy, then five, at the Kaseberg trailer court where he resided on Aug. 13, 1966.

The complaint alleges that Kaseberg permitted a dump of trash area containing glass and other articles to accumulate in an area where children played. ## GC Motorist Hits Deer On Rte. 66 near Mitchell

Norman Randall, a crane man at American Steel Foundries, doesn't have a deer hunting license, but he got himself one anyway Thursday evening.

And he has a badly damaged 1966 auto to prove it. Actually, Randall, who lives at 2715 Buxton avenue, didn't get to keep the deer. It was carted away with a wrecker by Donald Hastings, game warden for the county.

"It was a doe and weighed at least 150 pounds," Randall said. He notified state police who summoned Hastings. The local "hunter" said it was about 7:45 p.m. Thursday and he was driving east on old U.S. 66-40 (Chain of Rocks road) east of Mitchell and had just crossed Route 111 when the deer ran into the path of his car. "It almost jumped on the hood," he added.

The impact killed the deer, and punctured the radiator on Randall's auto, which also had to be hauled away by a wrecker.

Arthur Tello, a brother of the bride, was best man, and David Batson, a brother of the bridegroom, Richard Applegate, David Westbrook and David Schidman made up the list of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was held at the Moose Hall following the ceremony. When they return from a honeymoon in the Ozarks, the couple will live at 2254 Washington avenue, Apt. 4.

"As you know from visiting here, the villages have no electricity, sewer systems, piped water or gas, so you can visualize the problems confronting rescue workers. They have to bring in and supply everything. There's no canned foods or pasteurized milk to send. They are having to cover the dead quickly to avoid more contamination and disease."

"Shiraz hasn't ever had such a bad earthquake and probably never will. The areas in which these quakes occurred always have had them. Some people of the villages realize this and move away, but others remain."

"It is interesting to note, these villages are like tribes in the sense that they are all closely related through intermarriage between cousins, etc. Their marriages are arranged and they usually marry their own town's people, so after a while almost everyone is related."

Mrs. Simoni, the former Mary Frohardt, her husband, Rahm, and their daughter, Lisa, are expected to return to the United States next August. The family was visited in Shiraz by Mrs. Simoni's parents in March 1967.

Mrs. Simoni continued—"Due to the fact the villages are composed of homes made of mud bricks, straw and logs and the roofs are packed with layer after layer of hard mud about two feet thick, and logs, they collapsed instantaneously with the quake upon the sleeping people."

"The quakes went on several days, not only one day. Rescue teams and volunteers went into the area by truck loads and food and supplies are being sent. The Shah made every working person donate a day's salary."

Former Resident Writes Of Earthquake in Iran

The aftermath of a tragic earthquake which killed 23,000 people in the state of Khoroasand, Iran, earlier this month is vividly described by Mrs. R. O. Simoni in a recent letter to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Frohardt, 245 State street.

Mrs. Simoni, whose husband is a physician at Christian Hospital in Shiraz, Iran, wrote—"A recent census shows that more than 23,000 people were killed by the terrible earthquake which occurred northeast of Shiraz. This figure does not include the vast numbers of wounded and disabled or countless homeless and parentless children."

"It is hard to imagine those killed number more than half the population of Granite City. Khoroasand is the name of the area in which this terrible earthquake took place three days ago at 2 p.m.—absolutely the worst time in the world, because in Iran everyone has to take a nap in the afternoon to be able to get up and work after the sun goes west."

Most People in Homes

"As you know, the sun here is unbearably exhausting in the spring and winter months. Can you imagine what it is like in the summer? So you see all the men and women were sleeping (men weren't in the fields where it would have been safe) when the earthquake collapsed the roofs of their buildings upon them."

"Most terrible was that many of the little children were playing in their walled yards, as a result thousands of youngsters are now parentless."

Mrs. Simoni continued—"Due to the fact the villages are composed of homes made of mud bricks, straw and logs and the roofs are packed with layer after layer of hard mud about two feet thick, and logs, they collapsed instantaneously with the quake upon the sleeping people."

Truck Registration To be for Six Months

Secretary of State Paul Powell today reminded truck owners that their initial registration of the vehicles for 1969 will be for a six-month period only.

Beginning July 1, 1969, truck registration will be changed from a calendar year to a fiscal year basis, with registrations being valid from July 1 of one year to June 30 of the next year. Truck owners will register their vehicles again on July 1, 1969, for the full fiscal year.

The object of the new system is to coordinate truck licensing with truck registration by the Illinois Commerce Commission primarily to assure complete collection of fees and taxes due but also to simplify payment of those fees and taxes.

2 Warriors Hurt in 33-0 Loss to Lancers

The Granite City high school Fighting Warriors lost a road game to the Belleville East Lancers 33-0 Friday evening in Belleville and also lost the service of two veteran griders, Mike Bradford and Jim Jones.

The local squad got its first look at Tom Lang, a transfer student from Japan, where his father was stationed. From the way he ran through and around blockers on cross field patterns, it was the last time they want to see him.

The non-league Lancers now have beaten two Southwestern Conference teams by big margins. GCHS tied Belleville 14-14 in its opening game.

On Belleville East's first touchdown drive, which started at its own 46-yard line and crossed the goal line 11 plays later, Lang carried the ball from the Warrior 32 to the 15-yard-line on one run, and moved the ball from the seven to two yards from the goal. From there, Tim Evans scored with six minutes remaining in the first quarter. The extra point kick was blocked by Dave Meizer.

Receiving the next kickoff, GCHS moved from the 18 to the 49 before fumbling on the 42-yard-line on an attempted pick back. In that drive, Jim Greenwald carried twice for gains of 25 yards and three yards, and Jim Rollins gained three yards.

Elusive Runner Gets 3 TDs
Belleville moved to the 37 on a run by Evans and then, on a broken field run, Lang scampered for a 37-yard touchdown evading several Warrior tacklers with his pseudo moves. The extra point was kicked by Chuck Wilke for a 13-0 lead.

Granite City used two sets of downs in moving the ball from the 23 to the 30 as the first quarter ended and then to the 43, but had to punt to the Lancers.

Belleville East again employed Lang to get the job done.

On a quick across-field pass from Ken Swenson, The extra point again was kicked by Wilke. He scampered for a 60-yard TD. Lang wasn't finished yet. Later in the second quarter, he swept the end for a 67-yard TD run. Another Wilke kick made the halftime score 27-0. When intermission arrived, the Warriors had been pushed back to their own 22-yard-line.

Final Touchdown
It didn't take the Lancers long to get their third quarter momentum going. They progressed from their own 20-yard-line to the Warrior 20 in 18 plays. Dave Chapman scored from the two. In this drive, Chapman carried for 20 yards, Evans for 31 yards and Lang for 16 yards. The extra point attempt was not through the crossbars.

Granite City received the ball, returning it to the 39, and advanced to midfield on carries by Roger Belshe, Greenwald and Jim Rollins before a fumble ended the third quarter.

Belleville East took over on its 35-yard stripe and worked it to the 49 before punting for the only time in the game. The punt netted only 23 yards, and in the final quarter the Lancers lost 60 yards on penalties. But they had managed to get the ball to the Warrior 20 as the game ended.

Granite City earned six first downs, 119 yards rushing and 38 yards passing. The quarterback attempted 18 passes, completed three and had one intercepted. The Warriors punted three times for an average of 29.7 yards, lost two fumbles and were penalized for 40 yards.

The Belleville East squad had 15 first downs, 300 yards rushing and 45 plays, 126 yards passing, 10 passes with eight completed and no interceptions. The single punt for 23 yards, one fumble lost and penalties of 95 yards.

Warrior rushers were Green-

The winners scored 13 points in the first quarter on a 15-yard run off the right tackle by Stan Stajduhar, an extra point by Joe Wallace and a 10-yard run sweeper play by Wallace.

The closest the Braves came to scoring was in the third quarter, when they managed to get within five yards but fumbled on a first down.

The final touchdown came near the end of the game as Wallace fired a 16-yard pass to Chuck Kraus. The extra point kick attempt was blocked.

Fumbles Downfall of MHS at Rosary, 25-0

The Madison high school Trojans—much like the grid Cardinals yesterday—just couldn't hold onto the football Saturday at Rosary high of St. Louis. The local squad committed five fumbles and lost the game 25-0.

Coach Alvin Vander Haar said, "Fumbles cost us the ball game."

"From the kickoff, we drove down to their 15-yard-line but then fumbled. We actually should have scored four touchdowns in the first half."

Discussing the first Rosary touchdown, Vander Haar said, "They scored on a busted play around our right end. They caught our halfback too far in."

The quarter ended 7-0, which also was the halftime score. But Rosary added two touchdowns in the third period and another in the final quarter.

British Soccer Team Defeats SIU-SW 4-1

Precision ball handling and the stars of St. Louis's soccer team of England smothered any chance Saturday for SIU-SW to hang onto the 1-0 lead it held at halftime, and the British won the match here 4-1.

It was the fifth game of the season for St. Louis's and the first for the host Cougars.

Although dogged throughout the afternoon, contesting St. Louis's Cougars showed tenacity of their own in a defense that selfishly guarded a full score awarded to SIU-SW's Pete Zakrzewski.

The marker broke off the hand of St. Luke's left halfback, Malcolm Cridde, as the British tried to stem a Cougar drive at the goal. Zakrzewski led the inside action and made last Cougar contact with the ball.

BUSY SUPERMARKET. Schermer Bros. Grocery Store, 12th and Madison avenue, which is observing its 65th anniversary this month. The colonial-style Garden Shop, at right, was erected in 1965 on the site of the original grocery store, built in 1903 by Herman Schermer.

Schermer Brothers Market Observing 65th Anniversary

Sixty-five years ago in the wake of the disastrous 1903 flood which completely inundated his previous place of business in North Venice, Herman Schermer built a small grocery store on the northwest corner of 12th street and Madison avenue.

Today, on the site of the original store stands Schermer's colonial-style Garden Shop and opposite—the recently renovated and expanded modern supermarket, boasting 16,000 square feet of floor space, fast check-out service and a meat department where customers still may select their favorite cut of meat at the time of purchase.

Schermer Bros. grocery store is the oldest family-owned continuously-operated retail business in Madison. The enterprise is operated by two of Herman's three sons, Leo and Avery Schermer. Their brother, Stanley, died unexpectedly in August 1965 at age 41, while on vacation.

The business, currently observing its 65th birthday, was the scene of a "Grand Opening" celebration during the first week of June, which marked completion of a large expansion program.

The remodeling and enlargement project added 4200 feet to the previous store area and new dairy and meat departments, spacious aisles and increased customer service.

Snack Bar in Sotre
Schermer's remains the only supermarket in the Quad-Cities where the customer may sit at a snack bar and enjoy a cup of coffee, a piece of pie or a sandwich and chat with the owners.

The refreshment area is a favorite gathering place for salesmen waiting to see the busy Schermer brothers, or the druggist from across the street who takes his coffee breaks at the snack bar and catches up on the day's events with pleasant Mary Thebeau, who supervises the area.

The founder of the store, who died in 1938, also was widely respected as a civic leader. He served as a trustee on the Madison village board and founded and served as president of the Madison Savings & Loan Association.

Organize Club, Library

Herman Schermer assisted in organizing and became a charter member of the Madison Rotary Club and his wife, Helen, helped to organize the Madison public library. One of the library's early homes was in quarters donated rent free by Schermer on the second floor of a building he owned at Fifth and Madison, where Friedman's furniture store now stands.

After constructing the grocery store in 1903, Herman sent for his homeland—Austria—for his next oldest brother, Ben. At short intervals thereafter, each of his remaining five brothers arrived, the youngest accompanied by his mother.

In 1907, a new building was erected where the present Schermer Super Market stands and the grocery was transferred there. Seventeen years later, the building was enlarged and a complete department store was established. In addition to groceries, the expanded facility sold clothing, jewelry and a complete line of hardware.

In 1933, after Herman Schermer had suffered a heart attack and was unable to remain active in the business, Leo Schermer left Washington University Law School and took over operation of the store. Two years later, the department store was discontinued and the business reverted to the grocery line.

During the early 1940s, while Leo and Stanley were on military duty overseas and Avery was attending college, the store was operated by their mother. The day after Stanley returned home from service in 1946, a fire swept through a portion of the building housing a tenant-operated furniture store and the entire structure was destroyed.

The building was rebuilt and opened as a first self-service, cash-and-carry grocery store in Madison.

Continued Expansion

In 1954, increased customer volume required physical expansion into the space previously occupied by the Perdue Furniture Co. Once more in April 1955, a blaze destroyed the building and it was rebuilt and back in operation within five months.

Expansion again was needed in 1959 and in 1965, on the site of Herman Schermer's first store, the Garden Shop was erected.

From 1952, Schermer Bros. Market was to establish several firsts—the first store to inaugurate night shopping hours in Madison, first to provide change-maker cash registers and first to install automatic coin dispensers.

Many Schermer employees have been with the firm for years and a vast number of well-known Madisonians worked at the store as youthful carry-out boys in past years.

Both Schermer brothers are active in civic affairs. Avery is a keen supporter and worker for the Madison Lions Club, while Leo devotes many hours of service to the Rotary organization.

On weekends and after school hours, the children of the three brothers may be seen helping in various capacities at the store and it appears the Schermer tradition is destined to remain an integral part of the Madison community for many more years.

HUD May Restore Part of Cut in Gateway Budget

At least partial restoration of a drastic cut in federal funds allocated to the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council may result from a recent meeting with Housing and Urban Development Agency officials in Washington, Eugene Moody, executive director of Gateway Council, told a quarterly meeting of the Southwestern Illinois Area Metropolitan Planning Commission Thursday night.

Moody told the group of 30 SIMAPC members that he expects notice of an agency decision in the matter within the next two weeks and that "we believe we (a committee of Gateway representatives) made a good presentation to the HUD officials. We believe they were impressed with our problem and that some revision of the original grant will be made."

Moody has said that if the federal budget cut is permitted to stand it may put the Gateway Council out of business. The council requested a federal grant of $270,000, but was notified early this month that the agency was allocating only $216,000. Total budget for the 1968-69 year had been set at $1,305,789, including $435,000 in local matching contributions.

Would Handicap SIMAPC
The Gateway Council director told SIMAPC members that the council budget included $216,000 in SIMAPC planning projects and that the planning commission program would be severely handicapped if the budget cut continued.

"We found in our meeting at Washington that the reduced allocation results not only from the cut in the federal budget, but also because of an increased number of regional planning organizations such as ours that are bidding for federal funds," Moody told the group.

However, Moody added, "we learned also that while the budgets of other planning and coordinating agencies were cut along with ours, none of them received reductions as drastic as ours."

He pointed out that the HUD agency reduction in the Gateway Council allocation amounted to 75% of the total grant requested. Moody said that whatever HUD may do about the council's request for more funds, "we certainly do not expect full restoration of the cut."

Approve New Budget
SIMAPC members approved a budget request of $159,550 for the 1968-71 biennium, based on a legislative appropriation of $75,000 for the period. Salaries and contractual services account for $121,100 of the budget.

Alton May, chairman of the commission board, appointed a ten-member nominating committee to propose a new slate of officers in the annual meeting in November. May appointed Henry Karandjeff, Granite City; Harry Briggs, Nameoki township supervisor; Charles Chenoweth of Belleville; Robert Kronst, district highway engineer; Raymond Rippelmeyer, Valmeyer; Edward Delmore, Caseyville; Wetzell Harness, Washington Park; Edward Leamon, Alton, and Clarence Schuerer, Columbia, Mo., as board chairman, will serve as the tenth member.

The SIMAPC meeting was held in Andrews' Restaurant in East St. Louis.

Samples of treated waste are submitted periodically to the state, and a continuous sampling system is submitted to intermittent checks by the state, just prior to the flow into the river, it was reported.

County's EOC Grant Slashed by $95,000

A $95,000 cut in federal allocations for operation of the Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission during its 1968-69 fiscal year will reduce the county's EOC budget to $208,000. It was reported by Victor L. Darnell, EOC deputy director.

Darnell said there is a possibility the funds will be supplemented later, pointing out that a similar reduction occurred last year until Senate and House leaders were able to get together on a definite appropriation figure.

The $208,000 made available will be used for neighborhood services, legal services and programs and administration, it was said.

John C. Lobos, director of the Neighborhood Youth Corps for Madison and St. Clair counties, reported that efforts are being made to train young people for jobs through craft and industry, but that results have not been satisfactory thus far.

Showboat Must Operate Under Original Owners

The Venice City Council agreed Friday night to reject an application for the transfer of the liquor license of the Showboat tavern, 400 Main street, from its present owner to an applicant who planned to lease the tavern.

Mayor John E. Lee said the decision was reached in a conference of council members with Chief of Police John Essington. Recent activities at the tavern were discussed in the meeting, the mayor said.

The tavern was closed early last week on orders of Chief Essington after police learned the tavern was operating despite an order that it remain closed until the transfer application was acted upon.

Chief Essington said application for transfer of the license from the present owners, Mr. and Mrs. William Hoffman, to Beulah Presley, was filed Sept. 10.

The place was to remain closed until action was taken on the application, Essington said. Instead, he reported, the place opened for business.

Mayor Lee said the tavern will be permitted to operate under the original ownership.

Dave Hileman, 32, who gave the address as that of the tavern, was arrested by Essington on a disorderly conduct charge last Wednesday. Essington said Hileman became abusive and used foul language when the police chief phoned the tavern trying to reach Hoffman.

A one-week closing for the El Dorado Lounge, 401 Weaver street, Venice, also was ordered. The tavern was the scene of a fatal shooting last Tuesday night.

The closing order was made effective from the time the place was ordered closed by Chief Essington immediately after the shooting.

highway requirements within seven or eight years, while under present conditions we must project improvements over the next 20 years," Kronst asserted.

"Right now District 8 has about $25 millions in highway work on the drawing boards or in the process of right of way purchase, but how can we go ahead with much of this under present conditions?" he remarked.

Extension of Federal Aid Route 151 (the Great River Road) through Granite City and Venice and into East St. Louis, will take about $40 millions more, Kronst estimated. He pointed out that of the total federal allocation to the state of Illinois each year, 76% is designated for construction of the Interstate system. The remainder, he said, must cover costs of all other purposes.

When the Interstate system first was planned, it was expected to be completed in 1969 at a total cost of about $60 billions, but the completion date is now fixed at about 1978, he said.

Gets Fair Share

He said he believes that District 8, second largest highway district in Illinois, gets its fair share of highway funds. During the last four years, he noted, District 8 has received about $188 millions, compared to $178 millions for Cook county (not including Chicago).

Kronst touched only briefly on the recent federal freeze on highway funds in Madison and St. Clair counties which grew out of an alleged shortage of employment of minority group workers in highway projects. He said that highway officials have no way of knowing just what is required to meet the federal demand. No definite criteria has been established as a guide for such employment.

In emphasizing his warning that motorists eventually must pay more for highway construction, Kronst estimated that by 1985 there will be more than eight million cars on Illinois roads.

"The highways can't handle the traffic we have now," he said. "It is something for you to think about."

Man, 28, Beaten In Tavern Brawl

Terry Thweatt, area hoodlum, was involved in a fight at a Tavern & Country package liquor store and tavern on Chain of Rocks road near the canal bridge Thursday night.

Macer Allen, 28, Glasgow Village, Mo., was admitted to Christian Hospital in St. Louis with multiple lacerations to the head, face and right hand. A sharp object apparently inflicted the wounds.

Allen was taken to the hospital by a companion, Danny Elson, 25, St. Louis, who also was involved in the fight but was not hurt. Allen was reported to be in satisfactory condition.

Madison county sheriff's investigators received conflicting reports of the incident. Elson said he met Allen at the tavern at 8:30 p.m. and the fight started at about 9 p.m. He said he and Allen were accosted by five men, two of whom forced Elson outside of the tavern, while Allen was beaten inside by the other three.

Elson described one of his assailants as being about 35 years old, short and chubby with long curly hair and wearing a black trench coat. He wielded a chrome-plated revolver.

The other, also about 35, was tall and thin, with short curly hair and wearing a gray trench coat. He said the other three were attired in sports coats and were in their 30s.

Elson told authorities that the five left in a 1964 auto, fired one or two shots at him and patrolled the tavern several times before finally leaving.

The owner of the tavern, A. Harold Mason, 61, of 1408 Norwood drive and barmaid Sharon Dixon, 24, Jennings, Mo., said they left when the men started throwing bottles at each other.

Allen could have been cut with broken beer bottles, since glass and blood were observed on the wall and floor of the tavern and outside of it, deputies reported.

Mason, who was summoned by Sheriff George Musso for a conference, said the Missouri men started the fight. He said one of four men involved was Thweatt, but that he could not identify the other three. Elson said he knew no motive for the beating. No charges have been filed.

One man was arrested, another was hospitalized and a third suffered bruises and head cuts as the result of an altercation at 3 a.m. Saturday in the Lucy's Lounge, tavern, 1415 Fifth street, Madison police reported.

Larry Willoughby, 23, of 638 Jefferson street, Venice, was held in the Madison jail Saturday on a charge of assault after he allegedly beat Charles Neal, 26, and Dave Turcott, 26, both of 67 University drive, Mitchell.

Turcott was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated and transferred to a St. Louis hospital. He suffered bruises and a head cut.

Police said Neal told them he and Turcott were talking in the tavern when Willoughby came in. Neal and Turcott walked outside the tavern and Willoughby followed them out, walked up to them and struck Turcott, knocking him down. Neal said Turcott was "knocked out" but Willoughby grabbed him by the hair and dragged him inside the tavern, police reported.

Neal related that he asked Willoughby why he had hit Turcott and that Willoughby replied, "Because I don't like him." Neal said he had hit Willoughby again when he had struck Turcott and Willoughby hit him, knocking him down.

Police quoted Neal as saying that Willoughby then went back to Turcott, who was just beginning to regain consciousness, lifted him up and struck him another blow that knocked him about ten feet across the room.

Willoughby next walked over to Neal, the man told police, and struck him with a hard object, which cut his head. Willoughby then left.

The study of rocketry continues to grow and it will be at least 50 years before other means of clearing our atmosphere will be devised, Headrick predicted. At the initial meeting, objectives of the club will be discussed and plans for future programs announced, he said.

Club members learn rocket building techniques and design, using scale model kits and construction of launching equipment. Used in launching the model vehicle is a professionally-prepared propellant which is not dangerous and may be quickly destroyed if necessary, Headrick said.

River Recreation Study Passes in U. S. House

Recreation enthusiasts in this area, especially those who resort to the Mississippi river for skiing and fishing, are being advised that legislation recently passed in the House of Representatives in Washington is designed to create an Upper Mississippi Valley Recreation area study.

According to U.S. Rep. Melvin Price, the bill which unanimously passed in the House would study the desirability of establishing such a recreation area on the Mississippi between Wood River and Minneapolis, Minn.

Price pointed out that the study would concern 605 miles of the river which curls through Illinois, Missouri, Iowa, Wisconsin and Minnesota. It would require at least 18 months and would cost about $100,000. The bill now goes to the Senate.

BRITISH SOCCER TEAM ENTERTAINED
The soccer players for St. Luke's Exeter, a teachers' college in Devon, England, who are the British championship soccer team, were entertained Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnett, 80 Sherwin drive. are members of the SIU-SW hospitality committee, were impressed with the 19 young men comprising the team that they invited them to their home.

The boys, including Peter Morand, the team secretary, or student manager, and Wally Rice, the team president, were served, ice cream. They were delighted by this often taken-for-granted American product. Other foods considered secondary in the U.S. but of great interest to the English were popcorn and watermelon. None of the visitors had ever seen popcorn being popped, nor had they ever eaten it salted and buttered. In England, they said, it is only eaten when sweetened.

Another treat for the players was a visit to a local department store. They were pleased with the variety of items from which they could choose, and many purchased souvenirs for relatives in England. Barnett, principal of Lake school and Mrs. Barnett, a teacher in the Granite City school system, were assisted in entertaining the soccer team by their son-in-law, Frank

Social Security Changes May Be Made Locally

Social Security beneficiaries in Madison and St. Clair counties who need to report changes of address or other events that affect the payment of their monthly benefits may now do so through the social security office at 600 Missouri avenue in East St. Louis, Ralph Brasher, district manager, said today. Reports may be made by mail, telephone, or personal visit. Brasher said that up to now beneficiaries were encouraged to notify the Social Security Administration about the occurrence of these events on post-card form pre-addressed to one of six social security record centers throughout the country. Beneficiaries received the post-card forms when they initially applied for monthly benefits. Brasher said that the change in reporting methods is designed to reduce the time needed to change addresses and process other information having an effect on payment of monthly benefits. The change is prompted by the increased capacity of social security district offices to transmit the information over high speed communications circuits to record offices. In addition to address changes Brasher said that events that affect receipt of monthly social security checks include employment, marriage or remarriage in some instances, divorce and death.

Are you a newcomer to St. Louis?

Here's someone we'd like you to meet

David Nicholson

David Nicholson opened his grocery shop at Fourth & Market Streets in 1843. So, even though we'd like for you to meet him, it just isn't possible.

There is something we can introduce you to, however, from his (and the city's) Golden Age: David Nicholson 1843—the Bourbon he personally selected and brought upriver on his own steamboat.

Since the days when Mr. Nicholson provided affluent St. Louisians with food and beverage delicacies from all over the world, the enjoyment of David Nicholson 1843 has become a tradition.

You may never have heard of 1843. There's simply never been enough of this are Kentucky Bourbon for it to get very far away from St. Louis.

But here in St. Louis, you'll hear about it. You may even be fortunate enough to receive it as a gift.

If so, congratulations. You're being made a part of an age-old custom—one that's strictly St. Louis.

Lawn & Garden

WAYNE B. SIEFFERT
Extension Ornamental Horticulturist

Fall Fertilizing of Turf
Mid-September fertilizing of bluegrass is the key to dense turf and good color.

Fall fertilizing promotes vigorous growth of bluegrass and fescue while many weeds are dead and dormant. Struggling bluegrass plants will suddenly become dark green as cool weather and fertilizer revives your dormant bluegrass.

Mid-September application of lawn fertilizer will promote vigorous growth if you increase the application rate by 50% above the recommendation on the bag. Two applications during the fall season maintains a better supply of plant food and usually leaves a little surplus for early spring.

This double program should follow the bag recommendations and be applied in Mid-September and early November.

Lime and Lawns
Liming your lawn for better grass growth is often a disappointment. An overdose can be a disaster if you have a pin oak. Bluegrass prefers a slightly acid soil and thrives in the same situation as pin oaks and sweet gums. Extra nitrogen has a stimulating effect on all three while lime has no effect on bluegrass and can cause pin oaks and sweet gums to gradually yellow and die.

If you see moss developing in your yard or find red sorrel (this weed is supposed to be a sure sign of sour soil) you may worry about your soil. Only a soil test will prove your soil is too acid.

Regular applications of lime can gradually kill pin oaks, sweet gums and hackberry. These trees are sensitive to extra lime and gradually turn yellow when the natural soil has too much lime or an extra supply is added.

Fall Seeding
Fertilizer, rains and cool weather are the perfect trio for fall bluegrass take over your lawn.

Combined with tall cutting, fertilizer will stimulate bluegrass to quickly spread into nearby thin areas and produce a thick green turf. General reseeding is no match for the results from fall fertilizing and good management.

Workshop at SIU-SW For English Teachers

Rev. Walter J. Ong, S.J., professor of English at the University of Chicago, will be the principal speaker at a workshop for area secondary English teachers scheduled Saturday, Sept. 28, at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

A former member of the St. Louis University faculty, Rev. Mr. Ong is known as a scholar in both the Renaissance field and the field of contemporary culture. His latest book, "The Presence of the Word," is considered a thorough historical study of the development of verbal communication, from oral cultures through writing and print to electronics as seen in psychological, literary, religious and anthropological terms. The book is an enlarged version of his Terry lectures at Yale University.

Opening at 9 a.m. with a half-hour registration period in the River Rooms of the University Center, the workshop will get under way at 9:30 a.m. on the second floor of the Peck Classroom Building. Four lecture sessions are planned. For the convenience of those who wish to attend more than one, the programs will be offered at both 9:30 a.m. and 10:30 a.m.

24th District Aid Costs at $82 Millions For 1967-68 Year, Cong. Price Reports

More than $82 millions in Social Security, Medicare, veterans and welfare payments were received by Madison and St. Clair county residents of the 24th Congressional District during the fiscal year ending June 30 this year, Cong. Melvin Price (D-East St. Louis) said in the first of a series of five reports he plans to make on federal activities and expenditures in the district.

Congressman Price pointed out that these expenditures represent only the federal share of such payments which often include matching funds from state or local governments directly involved.

He said the 1967-68 payments for these purposes exceeded by about $30 millions the expenditures for the same classifications during the preceding 1966-67 fiscal period.

Of the total, Price reported, $60,316,000 represented expenditures of the Social Security program, including cash Social Security payments of $48,407,000.

Medicare payments of $10,805,000 and administrative expenses of $604,000.

Social Security Doubled
Social Security administration outlays more than doubled over the previous fiscal year as more and more elderly persons became eligible to participate in the Medicare program and the Old Age, Survivors and disability insurance program.

Congressman Price noted that "tens of thousands of individuals and hundreds of families have been helped by Medicare during the past year. Sometimes we forget the importance of these benefits for our parents and loved ones."

He said the Veterans Administration paid out $3 millions less in benefits than it did in the 1967 fiscal year, with expenditures totaling $9,502,760.

These included compensation and pensions of $7,075,630, readjustment benefits including vocational rehabilitation of $887,650, insurance and indemnities of $1,512,290 and direct loans of $23,000.

Price attributed the drop in VA benefits during the past fiscal year to lower claims in the insurance and indemnities category. He pointed out in the report that the Veterans Administration programs were among the most important administered by the federal government. He noted their scope which include hospitalization for disabled veterans, education for many newly returned war veterans and rehabilitation and compensation for the wounded and disabled.

Public Aid Spending
In the final section of his first report, Congressman Price discussed payments of federal monies by the Illinois Department of Public Aid under various welfare programs and reported that spending for these programs reached a total of $11,985,733, during the year ended June 30.

In conclusion Price noted: "One of our reports of the reports discussed in this report reaches into nearly every home in Madison and St. Clair counties with timely help and assistance. Without the benefits guaranteed our people by our national laws a retired worker might not be able to carry the burden of his hospital and medical expenses; a young veteran of the Vietnam conflict might not otherwise be able to pursue a higher education; an impoverished child would not have even the slight chance that he now has to break the bonds of economic deprivation."

"Certainly we all might not agree with every federal program, but somewhere, somehow, in our lives we need the assistance they provide. We should recognize the rights our neighbors have to benefit also."

Week is Spotlighting Human Growth Problem

The first Human Growth Week is being observed here on a national basis.

Human Growth is an organization of parents, friends and other persons interested in children with growth problems. In the U.S. alone, it is estimated that at least a half-million children suffer from some type of growth problem.

For the first time in medical history, there is real hope for many of the thousands of children of normal intelligence who without help may not attain a height of more than three and a half or four feet as adults, a spokesman said.

In 1958, researchers found that an extract from the pituitary glands of deceased persons could stimulate the growth of hypopituitary children. It takes from 100 to 200 pituitaries to supply one child with enough growth hormone for a year's growth, and the supply of HGH means less than 10% of the need, it was explained.

A number of local parents in this area are members of the Greater St. Louis chapter, acting as lay people in securing the glands to help children usually short in stature or affected by dwarfism.

Anyone concerned with this medical problem may wish their glands to the organization and be assured that it will help some child realize normal growth, the spokesman said.

For more information, those who are interested may call Mrs. Norma Koesterer, 50 Cambridge drive, 876-5534.

Meetings of the Greater St. Louis chapter are held once a month on a Monday evening at Children's Hospital in St. Louis, with the public invited to attend.

State to Research Water Well Efficiency

Analyzing where water wells lose their efficiency and why is a current research project of the Illinois State Water Survey. Because wells are not always efficient, the Water Survey is measuring the energy losses in moving water from one place to another.

"When we get a better understanding of these losses," H. F. Smith, head of the hydrology section of the survey said, "we can devise a formula for well design that will give a more efficient well and probably a more economical well to build."

Bi-State Assets Near $40 Million Mark

The Bi-State Development Agency, one of the oldest interstate agencies in the nation, ended its 1967-68 fiscal year with total assets of $39,211,981, of which $30,211,981 represented assets of the Bi-State Transit System, according to the agency's annual report released Friday.

Although Bi-State Transit System represents the agency's largest operational function, assets of three other phases of agency operation total $8,996,071, including $1,508,626 in the Granite City wharf and terminal; $3,267,347 in the train transportation system in the Gateway Arch, and $4,210,098 in Bi-State Parks Airport at Cahokia. There is an additional $403,029 in the general agency fund, the report said.

Transit system revenue during the 1967-68 year totaled $23,764,483, a decline of $209,517 from income of $24,084,000 during the previous year, while operating expenses for the period amounted to $20,523,893, or only $32,270 less than the $20,556,163 in expenditures the previous year.

Funding Cost Down
Funding requirements for the year amounted to $3,260,467, leaving a net revenue surplus of $123, as compared to funding requirements of $3,281,864 a year ago, leaving surplus revenues of $245,973 at the end of the 1966-67 fiscal year.

A balance of $729,709 at the beginning of the 1967-68 year, along with the addition of non-revenue items and adjustments to interfund transfers, gave the system a balance of $1,044,913 at the end of its fiscal year as of March 1, 1968. Investment in facilities at the end of the 1967-68 year amounted to $22,968,464, the report said.

This figure is based on total transit system investment at cost amounting to $25,783,342, less accumulated depreciation of $2,824,878.

The report noted that operation of the Gateway Arch passenger transportation system which was placed in use last year exceeded all expectations. The system operated a total of 300 days during the year beginning on July 24, 1967, utilizing only one leg of the arch system during most of the period. The second leg of the transportation system went into operation last May 18.

Train Use High
The 100,000th person rode to the top of the arch on Sept. 1, 1967, and the highest attendance for any one day with only one train operating was recorded Nov. 25 when 3076 persons rode to the top of the arch.

Income, however continued slightly in excess of the bond obligation, permitting further increases to Granite City Steel Co. for funds advanced in previous years.

21st Street Mishap
Eastbound auto of Gary Rubbhausen, 4012 Rode avenue, and Betty Wallace, Clarksville, Tenn., sideswiped on 21st street at Delmar avenue at noon Friday. The Wallace car was leaving a parking place.

Question:
What can you get 19,000 copies of for $1.00?

Answer:
A 14-word Press-Record Want Ad

for reconstruction, extension and lighting of the northeast-southwest runway, and construction of an aircraft parking apron extension.

The report notes that Bi-State Development Agency continued active participation during the last fiscal year in the overall land uses and transportation study for the metropolitan area being conducted by the East-West Gateway Coordinating Council.

Facilities of the agency's wharf and public terminal on the Chain of Rocks canal continued to operate at substantially less than full capacity during the year, the report said, although material increases were obtained in the shipment of newsprint. Bulk cargo facilities continued to receive minor use.

Growth of Bi-State Parks Airport continued throughout the fiscal year, the report notes, and revitalization of the airport was reflected in increased aviation fuel sales, hangar rentals and transient traffic. During the year Ong Airlines began commuter service between Bi-State Parks Airport and Carbondale, Springfield, Champaign-Urbana, Peoria and Chicago with four daily northbound flights and five daily southbound flights, but a lack of traffic later reduced this to touchdowns only when passengers were on hand.

Received U.S. Grant
No major construction was undertaken at the airport during the year, but Bi-State received a $149,300 federal grant

Hearing Tomorrow in Madison Forgery Case

Preliminary hearing is scheduled in Granite City magistrate court tomorrow for James LeRoy Liles, 25, of 2102a Nevada street, who was arrested by Madison police on a forgery charge.

Police said Liles was arrested Wednesday afternoon in the First National Bank in Madison when he attempted to cash a forged check for $175 written on a personal check of David L. Daniels of Madison. Police with held details of the case until Liles was arraigned Friday morning for the purpose of fixing bond.

According to authorities, Liles cashed a $85 check at the Madison bank during the morning. It also was written on one of Daniels' personal checks and was indorsed with the name "Franklin Smith." Later, officers said, Liles returned to the bank during the afternoon and attempted to cash the second check in the amount of $175.

The bank teller asked for Identification and Liles produced an Army ID card which police said had been altered and signed with the name Franklin Smith. Police said the teller became suspicious and police were summoned. Police reported that Daniels' personal checks had been stolen. Liles said he found the checks. Bond was fixed at $6000 during arraignment. Friday, Liles was taken to the county jail at Edwardsville when he was unable to post bond.

Tailgating Is Frequent Cause of Accidents

Tailgating — following too closely the car ahead of you — is a frequent cause for rear-end collisions that often spell tragic accidents on our congested, high-speed highways, the Quad-City Safety Council stresses.

What makes this type of accident so senseless is that it can be so easily prevented. To avoid rear-end collisions, the Safety Council suggests this simple driving rule:

A safe following distance is a car length for each 10 miles an hour you are driving. If you are traveling 40 miles an hour, for example, 72 feet would be a reasonable following distance.

With nearly 17 million traffic mishaps reported in the United States last year, that resulted in 53,000 fatalities, one just can't drive too carefully, the Association states.
